EDUCATIONAL BOOKS

PUBLISHED BY

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON,
714 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

NOW READY, FIFTH EDITION.

ARMSTRONG'S PRIMER OF UNITED STATES HISTORY,

FOR SCHOOL AND FAMILY USE,

With 6 New and Beautifully Colored Double-page Maps, from Original Drawings.
One vol., Square 16mo, cloth. Price, 50 cents.

"Having carefully examined Armstrong's Primer of United States History, I consider it quite equal to a similar class of books recently published in England. The style is clear and simple, the prominent and important facts concisely stated, and a mass of useless detail wisely omitted. As a text-book for beginners it is admirable, and as a hand-book in connection with a larger work, for older students, it will be found invaluable. The questions at the end of the work, instead of at the end of each chapter, is an improvement on many of the school histories, for the reason that the scholar's interest in the narrative remains uninterrupted. These questions will be found an excellent review for examination."—From THOS. HUNTER, Ph.D., President N. Y. Normal College.

 Sample copy, with a view to introduction, sent postpaid on receipt of 35 cents.

SUPLEE'S TRENCH ON WORDS.

On the Study of Words. By RICHARD CHENEVIX TRENCH, D.D., Archbishop of Dublin. Arranged for Class-Book, from the latest revised English edition. With an exhaustive Analysis, additional Words for Illustration, and Questions for Examination, by THOMAS D. SUPLEE, Head Master of St. Augustine's College.

"Trench's Study of Words" has long been a well-known and favorite study, though but poorly adapted heretofore for school use. In its new arrangement it must prove more acceptable than ever. 1 vol., 12mo, 400 pages, net price, $1.

Also, JUST READY, an entirely new edition (without the Suplee matter), from the last English edition, revised, of TRENCH ON THE STUDY OF WORDS. 1 vol., 12mo, 303 pages, net price, $1.

 Copies of either edition, with a view to introduction, sent postpaid on receipt of 75 cents.

A COMPENDIUM OF

Greek, Roman, Egyptian, Assyrian, Persian, Hindoo, Chinese, Thibetan, Scandinavian, Celtic, Aztec, and Peruvian Mythologies, in accordance with standard authorities.

Arranged for the use of Schools and Academies. By C. A. WHITE, author of "White's Classical Literature," etc. A practical work, prepared by an experienced teacher, and designed for pupils who have not yet entered, or who, like the greater number of those attending our female academies, are not likely to enter, upon a regular classical course. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"This translation of the Æneid has been universally admitted the most attractive. It has gained preëminence by its novelty, the singular felicity of its diction, its constant animation and great variety united with consummate scholarship in its remarkable fidelity to the nicer shades of meaning in the original."

THE

AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE FOR 1882.

[PUBLISHERS' PRICES.]

Compiled by G. D. T. ROUSE.

NOTICE.—In this Catalogue only prices made by publishers themselves are given—retail if retail, in first column; “net” (wholesale), if “net,” in second column; where a “mailing” percentage is specified by the publisher, the “mailing price” is given in the retail column marked with an asterisk (), in addition to the wholesale price. When price-columns are left blank, the publisher failed, on application, to furnish price. A double asterisk () in price-columns designates books forthcoming. New books, issued since the publication of the Catalogue of 1881, are designated by a single asterisk () before title.

 In comparing prices or ordering at retail, private buyers should bear in mind that a percentage must be added to prices quoted at wholesale, to cover freight, handling, delivering, etc. Discounts on quantities to schools vary on different lines, according to the kind of prices adopted by the respective publishers.

For subject classification (and for collective references to classic authors entered here under separate editors), see the second part of the Catalogue, following this main alphabet.

NOTES IN SEASON.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish shortly "The Modern Applications of Electricity, by E. Hospitalier, translated and enlarged by Julius Maier, science-master of Cheltenham College." The work will be fully illustrated.

FUNK & WAGNALLS have published a volume on "The Revisers' English," comprising a series of criticisms, showing the revisers' violations of the laws of the language, by G. Washington Moon, author of "The Dean's English," etc.

E. CLAXTON & Co., Philadelphia, announce for the coming season, "How Lisa Loved the King," by George Eliot, with six illustrations; "The Woodcliff Children Series," in six volumes; "The Doll's Club Series," in three volumes; and an entirely new edition of Thiers' "Consulate and Empire," in five volumes, bound in vellum cloth, gilt top.

E. & F. N. SPON have published the fifth division of their "Encyclopædia of the Industrial Arts," edited by C. G. W. Lock; "Facts and Observations relating to the Invention of the Submarine Cable, and to the Manufacture and Laying of the First Cable between Dover and Calais," by R. S. Newall; and a work on the treatment and prevention of spontaneous combustion and explosion occurring in coal mines and in ships, by Thomas Rowan.

TOWNSEND MACCOUN, Chicago, has just issued the first volume of the special limited edition of the "Life and Works of Benjamin Franklin," by Dr. Jared Sparks. This is a reprint of the edition of 1840, so well known to book collectors, and reflects great credit upon the publisher for the handsome presswork and general creditable outfit. It is a large octavo, printed on good strong paper, and is bound with uncut leaves. The price has been raised to $20 in cloth and to $40 for the set in half calf or morocco. It will be completed in ten volumes.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. have under way many attractions for the fall trade, the most notable of which will be "New England Bygones," by E. H. Arr (Ellen H. Rollins), a sumptuously illustrated work; an illustrated edition of Buchanan Read's Poems; and a new book by the same author, uniform with "Drifting" and "Brushwood;" "Zoological Sketches," by Felix L. Oswald; "Our Young Folks in Africa," companion volume of "Young Folks Abroad;" "The Children's Sunday;" "Little Ben Bute;" and new editions of the standards, Macaulay, Hume, Gibbon, Hazlitt, and Irving.

P. BLAKISTON, SON & Co. will have ready immediately Dr. Thomas Buzzard's new work on "Diseases of the Nervous System." It is expected that it will attract much attention on account of the high standing of the author as a specialist, and from his particular investigations into the relations between syphilitic affections and nervous disorders. They have also almost ready the American edition of Dr. Tilt's work on the "Change of Life in Women," printed from advance sheets by special arrangement, and issued in popular form and style.

JOHN CHURCH & Co. have now ready a new sacred cantata, entitled "David, the Shepherd Boy." The libretto, by H. Butterworth, pleasantly weaves into an interesting story the leading incidents in David's life, from the sheepfold to the throne, while the music, by Dr. Geo. F. Root, is pronounced by competent musicians exceedingly rich in lovely melodies and strong choruses, with a great variety of solos, etc. They have also just ready Dr. Root's new book, "The Realm of Song," intended for use in singing schools, institutes, conventions, etc.

LEE & SHEPARD have just issued a neat and handy volume, entitled "The Island of Nantucket; what it was and what it is." It forms a complete index and guide to this noted resort, containing descriptions of everything on or about the island in regard to which the visitor or resident may desire information, including its history, people, agriculture, botany, conchology, and geology. The volume has been compiled by Edward K. Godfrey, a native and resident of Nantucket, and he has succeeded in giving an interesting and satisfactory account of his birthplace. The volume contains an historical map and a new map of the streets of Nantucket, with the location of all the public buildings and places of interest.

HARPER & BROS. have published "The Revised Greek-English New Testament, containing Westcott and Hort's Greek text and the revised English version on opposite pages; together with the Rev. Dr. Schaff's introduction to Westcott and Hort's 'New Testament in the Original Greek.'" In this edition of the New Testament, which has been prepared by the publishers at the suggestion of several eminent scholars, the Revised English Version has been arranged so as to correspond as nearly as possible, page by page, with Westcott and Hort's Greek Text—the two works being printed on opposite pages. The work is a fine specimen of book-making. They have also published "A Manual of Guard Duty and kindred subjects, for the Regular Army, Volunteers, and Militia of the United States; being a thorough compilation of rules, regulations, and principles collected from the most authentic sources," by James Regan, First Lieutenant and R. Q. M. 9th Infantry, U. S. Army. In the English Men of Letters series they have ready Edmund W. Gosse's monograph on "Gray;" and in the Franklin Square Library Besant and Rice's latest novel, "So They Were Married."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rule of the American Library Association; those in nonpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); TL. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Imported books are marked with an asterisk; authors' and subscription books, or books published at net prices, with two asterisks; educational books published at "wholesale" prices, with a dagger.

Banks, Mary Ross. Bright days in the old plantation time; il. by Ja. H. Moser. Bost., Lee & Shepard, 1882. 6+266 p. D. cl., $1.50.

"It is a simple, charming and natural narrative of life on a broad plantation in ante-bellum days, founded on the actual experiences of the author, and all the incidents and adventures are told in the same natural strain, without any attempt at undue elaboration, as one tells to a sympathetic companion the adventures of a youth still fresh in the memory. Mingled in the story are many amusing foibles and much of the weirdly interesting talk of the genuine Southern slave, who with all the pride of family then looked down on poor white trash. The book is illustrated with original designs, and printed in an attractive style."—Griffin [Ga.] Daily News.

Bartholomew, W. N. Hand-book no. 2 to Bartholomew's "National system of industrial drawing;" to accompany drawing-books 5 to 13, inclusive, and supplementary books A, B and C. New ed. N. Y. & Chic., Potter, Ainsworth & Co., 1882. 3-303 p. il. sq. D. cl., net, 80 c.

New Testament in the original Greek; the text revised by Brooke Foss Westcott, D.D., and Fenton John Anthony Hort, D.D. Amer. ed., with an introduction by Philip Schaff, D.D.; [also, on opposite pages] New Testament, translated out of the Greek; being the version set forth 1611, compared with the most ancient authorities and revised 1881. N. Y., Harper, 1882. 104+1078 p. O. hf. leath., $3.50.

In this edition of the New Testament, prepared at the suggestion of several eminent scholars, the revised English version has been arranged so as to correspond as nearly as possible, page by page, with Westcott and Hort's Greek text—the two works being printed on opposite pages. This arrangement has rendered necessary some slight transpositions in the English version. The Greek has been printed from plates containing the final corrections of the editors, and the English from the type used in the brevier editions of the revised version issued by the publishers.

Bible. The Hebrew student's commentary on Zechariah, Hebrew and LXX.; with excursus on syllable-dividing, metheg, initial dagesh and siman raph, by W. H. Lowe. N. Y., Macmillan, 1882. 20+156 p. 8° cl., net, $2.50.

This novel, published in 1857, by the author of "The Lamplighter," was once quite popular; it has been out of print for some years, and will probably, in the new edition, be welcomed by a new generation of readers.

Cussans, J. E. Hand-book of heraldry; with instructions for tracing pedigrees and deciphering ancient mss., rules for the appointment of liveries. 3d ed. N. Y., Scribner & Welford, 1882. 360 p. 450 il. 12° cl., $2.50.

Contains all the information on the subject of astronomy that is needful to a person of ordinary culture. The authors have carefully avoided dry and abstruse mathematical calculations. The various kinds of telescopes and spectroscopes are described, and their use in the study of the heavens fully explained. The cuts are numerous and fresh and attractive. The lithographic plates are, with a single exception, reductions of the plates prepared at the Observatory at Cambridge, Mass. The remaining plate is a reduced copy of Prof. Langley's celebrated sun-spot engraving.

Gillet, J. A., and Rolfe, W. J. The heavens above: a popular hand-book of astronomy. N. Y. & Chic., Potter, Ainsworth & Co., 1882. 8+405 p. col. pl. and il. D. cl., net, $1.44.

This is the same book, page for page, as the one noticed above. This edition, with its popular but misleading title, has evidently been prepared with a view also to attract the general reader.

Gillet, J. A., and Rolfe, W. J. First book in natural philosophy; for the use of schools and academies. N. Y. and Chic., Potter, Ainsworth & Co., 1882. 6+191 p. il. D. cl., net, $1.08.

Gosse, Edmund W. [Thomas] Gray. N. Y., Harper, 1882. 10+223 p. D. (English men of letters.) cl., 75 c.

As Mr. Gosse remarks in his preface, the life of Gray, unlike the preceding lives of "English men of letters," has required at his hands expansion rather than compression of treatment. By the help, however, of some unpublished mss. in the library of Pembroke College, Cambridge, of which society he was long a resident, Mr. Gosse has to some extent filled up the scantiness of the biographical material, and has presented to us a full and appreciative portraiture of the poet and his comparatively uneventful life. (b. in Cornhill, 1716, d. 1771.)

M., E. S. Sly ballads in Harvard china. Bost., A. Williams & Co., 1882. 82 p. il. sq. D. pap., $1.

'Sly ballads in Harvard china,' by E. S. M., a new book of verses, issued in a very pretty form by Messrs. A. Williams & Co., is written in the approved modern verse-société style. The versification is very smooth and well turned, and the sentiments of a young man rather 'down on his luck' and very much interested in young women are drolly expressed with a singular mixture of wit and deep feeling. Many of the verses would not be disowned by Præd or Calverly, notably 'Epithalamium,' 'To Mabel,' 'Mea Culpa' and 'Civil service.'—Boston Advertiser.

The Publishers' Weekly.

JULY 22, 1882.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries," gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE.

THE Educational Catalogue for 1882 looks very much like its predecessors, but the expert salesman will discover at a glance the many changes and additions, which would not make it advisable for him to quote from any lists of an earlier date. The annual growth of the Educational Catalogue is indeed such as to make its future management a problem. THE WEEKLY is the only trade journal in the world which, for a number of years, has regularly presented its subscribers with an annual price-list of the educational literature of any one country. In fact, abroad nothing at all even approaching its labor and expense has ever been attempted. In this country, the American Bookseller has made similar, but rather irregular, attempts, although, as the organ of a large distributing-house, it serves a direct end which might "justify the means" without exceptions. THE WEEKLY not only gives each subscriber a copy of the catalogue, but also supplies dealers, below cost, with editions bearing their imprint, in order to induce them to circulate as many as they can place to advantage. This must explain why the future of the Educational Catalogue would be problematic without the advertising support of the publishers interested. And this should be borne in mind by those whose ends are served collectively—viz., the publishers; and also by those whose ends are served individually—the dealers. Unfortunately, with the present tendencies, the former are too apt to underestimate the auxiliary distributing power of the bookseller, and the latter are perhaps too ready to throw up in disgust a business which seems to become less profitable every year, but which, nevertheless, with some good management, yields profits which no one can afford to throw away. It is of no use to "kick against the pricks." This old saw applies with equal force to the new price system forced upon the publishers by the fierceness of competition and by the general clamor for cheap books. School-books, moreover, generally being sold in quantities, are, in accordance with the modern spirit of trade, somewhat treated as wholesale goods; and the discounts have been reduced because the publishers claim that the bulk of the demand for their books was owing to the work of their own expensive machinery. All this may be poor comfort to the bookseller, and poor comfort it is to us, for THE WEEKLY is precisely in the same boat. It is for the very same causes that, while its expenses on the Educational Catalogue have naturally been on the increase, the support of the publishers has been rather on the decline. All this notwithstanding—unless the educational publishers in a body desert THE WEEKLY, or make school-books absolutely prohibitory to the bookseller—THE WEEKLY will make a stand for the Educational Catalogue as determinedly as it would for any other link that would keep publisher and bookseller joined together. But there is no reason to despair while still so healthy a majority is public-spirited enough to endorse an undertaking which, though not subserving the special ends of any one, has succeeded in serving the interests of all.

BOOKSELLERS who desire to secure editions of the Educational Catalogue are requested to make application immediately, as we cannot undertake to fill any orders that will reach us after the imprint editions have left the press. If any one should still hesitate on account of the strict adherence of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY to the prices of the publishers, let him refresh his memory with what on this point has been said by us so often (and what he will find summed up on another page in this issue), and let him particularly ponder over this proposition: "It should be well considered that any attempt at withholding from the educational public what the publisher through his agents, advertisements, lists, and circulars, takes special pains to make known, must be an unwise policy."

As the official report of the Northwestern Convention may not reach us in time for this issue, we print the following dispatch, received through the kindness of Mr. J. F. Waggoner:

"CHICAGO, July 13.

"In the convention just closed, nine States represented unanimously endorse the protest of Western jobbers against trade sales. The consultation promises much good."

"BOOKS WANTED."

IT has been suggested to the WEEKLY by some one who well knows the ways of the trade, and who has tested the working capacity of the "Books Wanted" department, to follow the example of the London book trade journals, in giving each subscriber the privilege of advertising in the "Want" columns, six lines, free of charge. The suggestion is immediately and gratefully acted upon, although the WEEKLY is still smarting under the failure of its "Accommodation Department," which in the free advertising direction had actually surpassed our London contemporaries. But it is true that the failure, then, was owing rather to an expensive abuse of the "Books for Sale" columns, than to the unsatisfactory use of the "Books Wanted" columns. The latter department, indeed, has, even at its subsequent rates (which, however, have almost been nominal), been so steadily gaining favor among the trade, that now the WEEKLY is ready to give a trial to any suggestion that may promise to make this feature as indispensable to the American book trade as it has been for many years to the book trade abroad. There are still many in the trade who, simply from lack of experience, are unable to discover its proper use. Let them watch the names of those who are in the habit of using it. We might explain, in a new persuasive manner, why it is the live and wide-awake booksellers whom he will find to avail themselves of the column most frequently; but the subject is one of those which, in the WEEKLY, have been discussed so often that any attempt at trying to say better what already has been said understandingly might, at this season, prove unnecessarily troublesome and unprofitable. We therefore simply make room for repeating what, under the heading "Out of Print," was said in the WEEKLY two years ago. The facts in the case are the same to-day, and the reasons even more valid than then. For the columns are used much more than they were then, and the usefulness and the profitableness, both for purchaser and seller, must increase in the ratio of the opportunities which necessarily must be offered by an increased use of the columns.

"When a book is said to be out of print, it by no means follows that the book cannot be found," is another golden text for which we are indebted to the Sunday-School Times—a text which should be the second article in the bookseller's catechism, following the "Never say, 'It cannot be found.'" In the first place, the altogether too readily given answer, "Out of print," in many instances simply means, We have not got it, or not knowing the book or its publisher, it is too troublesome to look any further. With all the facilities the American bookseller has in the weekly, monthly, and annual reference lists of his trade journals, in the Trade List Annual, the American Catalogue, in the excellent dictionary catalogues of our leading public libraries, there is no excuse to answer, "Out of print," until all the resources within his reach have failed to put him on the track of the publisher. Even thus failing it would be safe to answer, "Apparently out of print, but if you will leave your address, I will notify you shortly whether the book can be obtained and at what price." Never send any one out of your store into another with a blunt "Haven't got it—out of print." You never can have a better chance to secure a customer than by obtaining for him a book which was "out of print" at your neighbor's. A book is not necessarily "out of print" even if your jobber cannot fill your order; for, although things a jobber doesn't know are rarely worth knowing, even he is apt sometimes to forget, and lack of memory at the time is practically lack of knowledge. If the books wanted are mentioned as old or rare, or are positively known to be out of print for many years, then it is better not to bother your jobber at all, but to have the titles inserted under "Books Wanted" in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, or the American Bookseller or the Library Journal. "It is the cheapest and quickest way of picking up old and rare books;" "within less than two weeks I have received replies from Winchester, N. H., Cazenovia, N. Y., Cincinnati, O., and Baltimore, Md.—this will show the extent of the circulation of your valuable paper—from New Hampshire to Texas" (these words were dated from Waco, Texas); "our advertisement secured us a book now out of print which we had been striving three months to secure; verb. sap. sat." These are a few of the expressions actually received from our subscribers and printed in the WEEKLY from time to time.

A further hint, to those who have for sale what is "wanted," is given in the following remarks: "And in this connection let us say that because we advertise for a book, parties answering our advertisements are mistaken in fixing an exorbitant price on their copies, as we have quotations on the same books from all over the country, yes, even from 'old England.' It is amusing to see the different rates on the same books." The same advice is given by a prominent house which for a number of years has been using with regularity our columns of "Books Wanted":

"I wish to testify to the value of your advertisement column, 'Books Wanted.' We have had occasion to make use of it often during the past year, and I have been continually surprised at the large proportion of items we obtain out of the list called for, sometimes receiving as many as twenty offers for the same work.

"I would suggest that booksellers answering these advertisements should limit their prices to what is fair and moderate, and not imagine that because a book is advertised for, one is ready to pay an exorbitant price for it. We are often able to use several copies of books offered at fair prices, when we would not take even one at the fancy figures some dealers are in the habit of quoting."

Will our congenial contemporary, which always is ready to give good counsel in book matters, supplement its admirable remarks by enjoining its readers to request such "enterprising dealers" as give the ready answer, "Out of print," to avail themselves of the precious privilege which their trade journals afford them at so slight expense and trouble?

A GOOD WORD FOR BOOK AGENTS.

W. C. Wilkinson, in the Independent.

It is true, indeed, as Mr. Warner has lately pointed out, that few people read books. I have actually, by a series of inquiries proposed to average people, put the matter to a test, with some very curious results, which this is no place to detail; but books get very few readers in this enlightened land. And I insist it is a real public service that our subscription-book publishers are rendering when they print unobjectionable books, bind them brilliantly, and then dispatch their hordes of indefatigable and unterrified agents to scour the country and make people buy them. The buyers thus found are for the most part persons that but for the ubiquitous and barnacular zeal of agents, would never buy books. Having bought the books as a matter of dire necessity, and so spent their money, these persons then read their books as a matter of duty and economy, to save their investments. The books sold in this way are often undoubtedly not of the highest class—sometimes they may even be pernicious books; but the rule is that they are fairly good books, much better, to say the least, than no books at all. A great deal of reading is thus done throughout the country that without the activity of the roaming and desultory book agent would never get done at all.

Our book-stores furnish very imperfect facilities for distributing books from the publishers' warerooms to the hands of readers. The great mass of the people never visit book-stores at all. In fact for the majority of the population there are no book-stores accessible that they could visit. What we need is a system of distribution that shall carry the book directly to the door of the dwelling and virtually compel the reluctant dweller to buy. This need is to a great extent met in the plan of selling books through itinerant agents, and the regular booksellers in the stores need not feel that their business is thereby at all interfered with. For every sale that they lose by the intervention of the book agent they may safely reckon that they gain a dozen. Bookselling must create the demand which it seeks to supply. One book read makes the reader of that book more likely afterward to buy a second than he could have been calculated to be before to buy his first. You cannot glut the book market by feeding it. You may, however, easily destroy it by starving it.

All success then, say I, to the book agent. Give him right of way through all the high-roads and by-roads of the country. Do not slam the domiciliary door in his face. How many an American farmer's and mechanic's whole library will be found to consist of those emblazoned volumes with which the visitor in rural regions is familiar, and which it is the delight of the book agent to make his loth customer buy. Let us rejoice that books so many, and on the whole so good, are by his instrumentality read. Herein rejoice rather than repine, that the books read are not more and better.

Journalists, cease the habitual gibe; cease henceforth to associate the canvasser for books with lightning-rod men, with life-insurance agents, with sewing-machine venders. Brethren, the book agent is of your guild and mine. He is at least entitled to the rank of poor relation to the editor and the article writer. Greet him with a smile of superior welcome. Give him now and then a place at table with the family and bid him God-speed. Remember that very likely you were once a book agent yourself. If not, consider how you may yet be such in those future years of seed and decay awaiting so many of us, which, let us hope, will in your case be distant and few, when they come.

OBITUARY.

MALCOM W. TEWKSBURY.

MALCOM W. TEWKSBURY died suddenly on July 5, at his residence on Garland Avenue, at Malden, Mass., of disease of the heart, aged 49 years, 5 months and 6 days. Mr. Tewksbury was born in Chester, N. H., on the 30th of January, 1833. He went away from home at the age of 15, and prepared himself at Pembroke Academy for Dartmouth College, which he entered in 1854, and graduated in the class of 1858. After leaving college he went West, and was principal of the high schools at Beloit and Racine, Wis. In 1863 he was captain of Co. C, 104th Illinois Regiment. After the war he came East, and was agent for Taggard & Thompson, booksellers, Boston. He was subsequently principal of the high schools of Bangor, Nashua and Newburyport, and a grammar school at Cambridge, also superintendent of the public schools at Fall River. For several years he had been established as a bookseller at 8 Hawley Street, Boston, and was the New England agent of Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co., of Cincinnati. He leaves a widow, two little daughters, and a son.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Decorator and Furnisher, to be published by E. W. Bullinger, of New York, will make its appearance the first Saturday in September. It will be edited by M. A. Curtis Bond, and illustrated by the Charcoal Club of New York. The journal will be devoted to the interests of trades that cater to the beauty and usefulness of the home.

The Art Interchange, midsummer number, has a double page design for summer art needlework, the subject of which is wisteria. There is more than the usual number of illustrations, prominent among which are a portrait of Thomas Hardy, the novelist, and a supplement in monochrome, consisting of an ideal head by M. B. O. Fowler.

Outing is the title of a new journal which has just made its appearance. It is devoted to the broad subject of recreation, and published by William B. Howland at Albany, N. Y. It is a handsomely printed quarto, and the June number is full of good reading matter appropriate to the season. "Summer of the Berkshire Hills," by one of the Goodale sisters, is the leading article. The subscription price is $1 a year.

THE Midsummer holiday issue of The Century is to have more than the usual quota of illustrated papers, among them two on English subjects. "The Borderlands of Surrey" will describe one of the most charming garden-spots of England, and include among its illustrations views of the home of Alfred Tennyson, and of "Brookbank," where George Eliot lived when she wrote "Middlemarch." A paper on some "English Artists and Their Studios," will have sixteen pictures of the interiors of the studios of Sir Frederick Leighton, J. E. Millais, George H. Boughton, Alma-Tadema, Philip R. Morris, John Pettie, and others, drawn by the American artist, Mr. Chas. A. Vanderhoof.

WM. WOOD & Co. announce that in October they will issue the first number of the Journal of Cutaneous and Venereal Diseases, edited by Drs. Henry G. Piffard and Prince A. Morrow. The object of this journal will be to serve as a medium of communication between those who have given special attention to the subjects referred to, and those members of the profession in general practice whose time or opportunities will not permit them to engage in these special lines of investigation. In carrying out this aim it is the intention of the editors to make the Journal eminently practical. Diagnosis, and more especially the most recent and successful methods of treatment, will be given the first consideration; both in the way of original contributions from experienced practitioners, and in excerpts from American and foreign journals. The excerpts and abstracts of articles that have been published elsewhere, when occasion demands, will be accompanied with carefully prepared explanatory notes or commentary. Hospital reports and clinical lectures will appear from time to time; and books sent for review devoted to the subjects considered in the Journal will receive careful notice. The first volume will comprise 15 full numbers, viz.: from October, 1882, to December, 1883, both inclusive. Each number will consist of thirty-two royal octavo pages of text, with such illustrations, both engravings and plates, as the articles may require. The subscription price will be $2.50 per year.

BUSINESS NOTES.

PORTLAND, ME.—Loring, Short & Harmon inform us that, compelled by their rapidly increasing business, they have removed to new and spacious quarters in Lancaster Building, No. 474 Congress Street, opposite Preble House. They occupy four floors, 35x100 feet; the ground floor or basement is fitted for a sample room and their wholesale department; the main floor, beautifully furnished in cherry, is the sales room, the third floor is the stock room, and the fourth floor is occupied by their blank book manufactory.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

"MR. R. N. CUST," says the London Academy, "is engaged upon a book treating of the modern languages of Africa, somewhat similar to his useful 'Modern Languages of the East Indies.' It will classify, condense, and arrange the scattered knowledge on the subject, following the most esteemed authorities. A linguistic and ethnical map has been specially prepared by Mr. Ravenstein to illustrate the volume; and in the Appendix will be a Bibliography exhibiting all the grammars, dictionaries, translations of the Bible, etc. The work will be published by Messrs. Trübner & Co."

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

AN official order from the Post-Office Department at Washington directs that Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" shall pass unmolested through the mails. The Postmaster at Boston had suppressed it, and applied to the Postmaster-General to confirm his action.

WILLIAM SLEIGH PATERSON, 455 Fourth Ave., New York City, is preparing a volume entitled "The Splendor of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of Mystic Shrine," translated from the original Arabic and illustrated by Albert L. Rawson, LL.D. The volume will probably be ready in the fall, and promises to be an interesting addition to the literature of Freemasonry.

THE Esterbrook Steel Pen Company manufacture a new pen, which they call the "Mammoth Falcon," of the style and nature of their well-known Falcons, but of such increased proportions that it might answer for the editor of the Brodingnag Court Journal. The increased size, however, in nowise detracts from the delicacy and precision of its point, and it will undoubtedly become a favorite with business men.

C. CARLTON MCCARTHY & Co., Richmond, Va., will issue early in the fall, provided they can secure a sufficient number of subscribers to warrant the expense, a description of "Soldier Life in the Army of Northern Virginia," by Carlton McCarthy, of the Richmond Howitzers, C. S. A., illustrated by W. L. Shepard, also of the Howitzers. Portions of the book have already appeared in magazine form, and were favorably received by the press.

MACMILLAN & Co. intend to issue in the winter season a volume on Dante Gabriel Rossetti and his influence and work in art and literature, by William Sharp. Its publication will be contemporaneous with the projected exhibition of the artist's works at Burlington House. They will reprint in this country Dr. Dawson Turner's "Rules of Simple Hygiene, and Hints and Remedies for the Treatment of Common Accidents and Diseases," which has been revised and corrected by twelve eminent medical men connected with hospitals in London.

THE London Academy makes the statement, and the New York Times repeats it, that "M. Quantin, Paris, has just published a translation of the well-known Japanese tale of the Forty Ronins, by M. Gausseron, with numerous illustrations by Kei-Sai-Yei-Sen, of Yeddo." It is proper to state that this French translation has been prepared from the American version published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, and that the illustrations used in the French edition were purchased from the Putnams by M. Quantin. The volume published in 1880 by the Putnams, it will be remembered, was entitled the "Loyal Ronins," and translated for them by Mr. Greéy and Mr. Saito (the latter a Japanese student at Harvard), and is to our knowledge, with the exception of "Chiushingura," translated by Mr. Dickens, and published by them in 1873, the first Japanese volume published complete, either here or in Europe.

C. N. CASPAR, Milwaukee, desires to inform the trade that he is the sole agent for the new edition of the "Wisconsin State Gazetteer and Business Directory." The work has been revised for 1882, and will be found invaluable to all having business relations throughout Wisconsin. It contains a description of upward of 1600 cities, towns, villages, and settlements in Wisconsin, alphabetically arranged, giving the nature of the products of the surrounding country, church and school facilities, manufacturing establishments, stage connections, prices of farming land, population according to the latest reports, the name of the postmaster, etc.; an alphabetically arranged list with the post-office address of all the merchants, manufacturers, mechanics, ministers, physicians, lawyers, justices, etc., in the State; and a classified list of all the trades and professions, grouping all the names in any particular business under its appropriate heading.

KOCH, SONS & Co. have now ready a large line of novelties in photograph albums, autograph albums, scrap-books, secretaries, desks, folios, etc. They have devoted especial attention to their autograph albums and scrap-books. In the former they have made innumerable new designs, among which the flower and bird pieces stamped on the cover in relief and in colors are particularly attractive. In many of the autograph albums they have introduced as a new feature selections with the autographs of popular literary men, while in others handsome colored designs of flowers, butterflies, birds, and bits of scenery have been inserted. In their scrap-books they have also introduced a number of very pretty cover designs, catering to all tastes and purses. As to the materials, like all the goods manufactured by this house, they are of the best quality that can be afforded for the price, and may be relied upon to stand a reasonable amount of wear.

ALEXANDER GARDNER, Paisley, Scotland, has in press a volume of "Selections from Wordsworth," edited by Mr. J. S. Fletcher, who has also written an Introductory Memoir.

THE first instalment, A—Bli, of Victor Gay's important "Glossaire Archéologique du Moyen Age et de la Renaissance" has been produced by the Société Bibliographique. It covers a much wider field than Viollet-le-Duc's dictionaries, which it resembles in point of illustrations. The objects defined and figured relate to the chase, to games, musical instruments, furniture, the industrial arts, commerce, agriculture, etc., etc.

THE two most recent additions to the popular class of French novels that treat of "actualities" are "Défroqué," by M. Ernest Daudet (Plon), and "Dinah Samuel," by M. Félicien Champsaur (Ollendorff). The former opens in the Tuileries under the empire, and closes in a Sardinian monastery; the latter introduces several hundred people well known in the society of Paris.

CHATTO & WINDUS will issue at once an account of the recent travels by Captain Burton and Commander Cameron on the west coast of Africa in search of gold. Captain Burton's magnum opus, upon which he has for many years been engaged, "The History of the Sword from the Earliest Times," will not be published until after the above-mentioned travels. It is expected to form three large volumes.

THE second volume of the correspondence of George Sand has just been issued in Paris by Calmann Lévy, covering the period from 1836 to 1847. Among the most interesting is one addressed to Lamennais in 1837, when she was publishing in his paper—the Monde—her "Lettres à Marcie." In it, while stating her own opinions upon the question of divorce, she leaves herself entirely in his hands. Later are two letters describing her visit to Majorca, in company with Chopin, in December, 1838, and also a very characteristic one to Mazzini.

BEMROSE & SON, London, announce elsewhere as nearly ready a "Student's Concordance to the Revised Version of the New Testament." The work has been compiled with a view to render it a complete concordance of the revised version and also a hand-book showing all changes of words and passages. The reader referring to any word will find every passage in which it occurs in the revised version, and wherever the word has been changed from the old version the old word is given with the new. Where the passage sought for does not appear under the old word, a list of the words substituted for it in the new version is given. The work will contain also various explanatory helps and a separate concordance of proper names, appendix, etc.

RECENT SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS OF

D. APPLETON & CO.,

NEW YORK, BOSTON, CHICAGO, AND SAN FRANCISCO.

APPLETONS' STANDARD GEOGRAPHIES.

Based on the Principles of the Science of Education, and giving Special Prominence to the Industrial, Commercial, and Practical Features. Two Books, "Elementary" and "Higher."

These Geographies are not only mechanically superior, but practically and distinctively superior in their embodiment of modern experiences in teaching, and of the methods followed by the most successful and intelligent educators of the day. The most recent of all geographical text-books, they embrace not only all that is new and valuable in methods of instruction and improved mechanism, but all the late census statistics and geographical changes. They were promptly adopted after their publication by the Boards of Education of the cities of New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Hoboken and several hundred other cities and towns throughout the country.

A GEOGRAPHICAL READER.

A Collection of Geographical Descriptions and Explanations, from the best Writers in English Literature. Classified and Arranged to meet the wants of Geographical Students. Compiled by JAMES JOHNSON, author of "Principles and Practice of Teaching."

It is original and unique in conception and execution.

It is varied in style, and treats of every variety of geographical topic.

It supplements the geographical text-books, and, by giving additional interest to the study, it leads the pupil to more extensive geographical reading and research.

It is not simply a collection of dry statistics and outline description, but vivid narrations of great literary merit, that convey useful information and promote general culture.

It conforms to the philosophical ideas upon which the new education is based.

AN HISTORICAL READER.

For the Use of Classes in Academies, High Schools, and Grammar Schools. By HENRY E. SHEPHERD, M.A., Superintendent of Public Instruction, Baltimore, Md.

This work consists of a collection of extracts representing the purest historical literature that has been produced in the different stages of our literary development, from the time of Clarendon to the era of Macaulay and Prescott, its design being to present to the minds of young pupils typical illustrations of classic historical style, gathered mainly from English and American writers, and to create and develop a fondness for historical study.

STUDIES IN LANGUAGE.

A Teacher's Guide to "Letters and Lessons in Language." By J. H. STICKNEY.

Although designed especially as a Teachers' Manual to accompany the author's series of text-books, "Letters and Lessons in Language," this little work contains so much new and excellent material on the subject of language study and language teaching, valuable for general instruction, that it should be upon every teacher's desk, whether the accompanying text-books are used or not.

A LATIN GRAMMAR FOR SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

By ALBERT HARKNESS, Ph.D., LL.D. Revised Edition of 1881.

It is an Elementary Grammar for Beginners.

This is indeed its prime object, with which nothing has been allowed to interfere. Brevity of treatment, clearness of outline, and simplicity of statement characterize this part of the work.

It is an adequate and trustworthy Grammar for the Advanced Student.

Care has been taken to explain and illustrate with the requisite fullness, all difficult and intricate subjects. The Subjunctive Mood and the Indirect Discourse have received special attention.

It contains a Practical Introduction to Philological Study based upon the Latin.

Abundant references are made to the latest and best authorities upon the numerous linguistic questions which now interest the classical scholar.

APPLETONS' ELEMENTARY READING CHARTS.

Forty-six Numbers. Prepared by REBECCA D. RICKOFF.

Every Chart in the series has in view a definite object, which is thoroughly and systematically developed. Every step in advance is in a logical order of progression and development. The beautiful and significant illustrations are an especially noticeable and attractive feature of these Charts. Pictures, objects, and things employed, rather than abstract rules and naked type. They follow the natural method of teaching, appealing to those faculties of the child that are most easily awakened, and inciting correct mental processes at the outset. They are arranged to be suspended when in use, from the back of a common chair, thus securing at all times a good position for display before classes.

ERRORS IN THE USE OF ENGLISH.

By the late WM. B. HODGSON, LL.D., Fellow of the College of Preceptors, and Professor of Political Economy in the University of Edinburgh. American Revised Edition.

The aim of this volume is to cultivate a correct use of the English language, by pointing out many breaches of common rules made by writers of high reputation. The value of the work lies in "its orderly arrangement of the different classes of errors to be avoided, its wide range of examples, and its lucid and learned exposition of principles." It will be found very useful for classes in grammar and literature.

MEISTERSCHAFT SYSTEM

FOR

French and German

Gives the pupil in ten weeks that complete fluency of speech which is rarely attained by other methods after years of study.

THIS PRACTICAL SYSTEM
OFFERS AN INVALUABLE OPPORTUNITY FOR SELF-INSTRUCTION,

as each subscriber ($5 for each language) becomes actually a pupil of Dr. Rosenthal, who is now with us, and who corrects (free of charge) all exercises and answers all questions in regard to any difficulties which may occur to the student—an advantage not offered by any other system.

From the Nation, New York, May 4, 1882: "This is the best system ever devised for learning to speak a foreign language in a short time."

FIVE DOLLARS is the price for each language. This amount ($5) entitles the member to receive the fifteen books or pamphlets containing the lessons, also answers to his questions.

For 25 cents we will send, as a specimen pamphlet, Part I of either the German or French lessons.

All remittances must be made to the Publishers,

Important to Buyers of Shakespeare.

Hudson's Reply to an Inquiry about his Various Editions of Shakespeare.

CAMBRIDGE, May 23, 1882.

MESSRS. GINN, HEATH & CO.

Gentlemen: In answer to your inquiries, I have this to say: My first edition of Shakespeare was stereotyped in the years 1851-56. There has been no general revision of the work since that time; only a good many typographical errors were corrected in the plates some twelve (12) years ago. The Introductions in that edition have all been since re-written, some of them several times, and, as re-written, are to be had only in the new series of school-plays, and in Shakespeare's Life, Art, and Characters; which latter is bound uniform with the new Harvard Shakespeare.

Sincerely yours,

H. N. HUDSON.

BRADLEY'S FROEBEL KINDERGARTEN GIFTS

AND

OCCUPATION MATERIAL,

Made by MILTON BRADLEY & CO., Springfield, Mass.

With a practical experience of nearly fifteen years, during which time we have been studying the principles of the true Kindergarten, and perfecting machinery for the manufacture of the material, we believe we now are able to offer the best line ever made in this or any other country. As the first party to manufacture Kindergarten material in this country by machinery, and on the American principle of division of labor and accurate gauges, it has been our constant aim to improve our facilities and our productions from year to year, and we now have a special corps of workmen employed exclusively on this work, many of whom have been trained for years to this special business. We are now making a much more perfect and complete line of material than we have ever before offered, which is sufficient guarantee to those who have been acquainted with our goods in the past.

Among the special points of excellence claimed for our manufactures are: Superior Accuracy and Finish—Neatness and Care in putting up—Seventh Gift Tablets and Parquetry Papers—Square Sticks for stick laying; also in colors—Soldered Rings in Ninth Gift—Marginal ruled Slates and Paper in Tenth Gift—Pricked Cards and Artistic Outline Embroidery Designs in Twelfth Gift—Ruled Cutting Papers in Thirteenth Gift—Beautiful Colors of Papers and accurate cutting in Fourteenth Gift, with sample-books of colored papers free to every Kindergarten—Pin-sticking Cushions—Mrs. Hailmann's Second Gift Beads.

Any Kindergarten who has not received our new Catalogue, recently issued, will confer a favor by sending address.

THE STUDENT'S CONCORDANCE

TO THE

New Testament, Revised Version,

COMPILED ON AN ORIGINAL PLAN.

The instances in which the familiar words of the Old or Authorized Version are replaced by others in the Revised Version, and in some cases altogether disused, are so numerous, that the student would constantly find himself at a loss in turning to a Concordance compiled on the plan which suffices for a Version which has been in use over two centuries.

This work has been compiled with a view to render it a complete Concordance of the Revised Version, and also a Hand-book showing all changes of words and passages.

The reader referring to any word will find every passage in which it occurs in the Revised Version, and wherever the word has been changed from the Old Version, the OLD word is given with the NEW. Where the passage sought for does not appear under the old word, a list of the words substituted for it in the New Version is given.

The work contains also various explanatory helps, and a separate Concordance of Proper Names, Appendix, etc.

Monthly Reference Lists

Issued by the Providence Public Library,
Providence, R. I.

A guide for the reader and student to all the trustworthy sources of information on current topics.

"The last one issued contains all the references on Carlyle and the Russian catastrophe which ordinary readers may want."—Boston Daily Advertiser, April 15, 1881.

"Under the head of 'The Stability of the French Republic' everything is set forth with such painstaking minuteness that new inquirers or old cannot fail to find every demand supplied." "Not only valuable to the reader, but to the purchaser of books, and to those who are forming small or large libraries."—Newark Daily Advertiser.

"The admirable reference lists of the Providence Public Library" with "information on current topics, as treated in books and periodicals, are now being published."—Providence Journal, April 14, 1881.

"Admirable résumés of the authorities on subjects of current interest. Any teacher with advanced pupils, desirous of training students in habits of investigation, could scarcely do better than supply these lists as texts for composition."—Springfield Republican, April 22, 1881.

A "useful serial completed last month its first volume: we refer to the Monthly Reference Lists issued by the Providence Public Library. The table of contents shows that bibliographical aid has been given not only in respect to current topics like the cession of Dulcigno, the revision of the Bible, comets, the French in Tunis, the centenary of Kant, Yorktown, the inter-oceanic canal, Carlyle, and Dean Stanley, but in respect to biographical, historical, scientific, literary, and critical subjects of permanent interest. . . . They are adapted to any locality which contains a public library."—The Nation, Jan. 12, 1882.

ECONOMICAL

MEMORANDUM

THE BEST DIARY.

We present for approval the "Economical Daily Memorandum" in various sizes and styles, printed on good paper, strongly sewed and neatly bound, with leather backs and printed sides, also in full leather.

Besides a space for each day of the year, it contains tables of the rates for foreign and domestic postage and money orders, valuable postal information, calendar, and cash account for each month.

In addition to days of the week and month, the diary is numbered for the days of the year, a valuable improvement, useful for time calculations.

Dealers whose trade does not warrant an investment of the considerable sum required to purchase an assortment of Diaries in the usual extended variety, will find a few dollars profitably spent in buying these goods, which come within the reach of all.

Dealers, already carrying a line of other Diaries, will find the "Economical" a valuable addition. Being made without flap or tuck, they can be retailed at the price commonly charged for similar plain memorandum-books, and therefore extend the sale to a different class of buyers.

We will be glad to furnish sample copies at half the wholesale price. We solicit early correspondence in order that samples may be received in time to make a selection and place an order before August 1st.

This time is necessary to allow for the manufacture of stock, as owing to the limited season during which Diaries are retailed, the demand must be anticipated by both jobbers and manufacturers.

Respectfully,

VAN ANTWERP, BRAGG & CO.

The Publishers' Weekly.

This journal, an independent representative of the American book and kindred interests, is issued weekly from 13 and 15 Park Row, New York, at $3.20 per year, including postage.

Its bibliographical department includes a weekly full-title record of all new American publications, with notes after the title descriptive of the book—a new and most important feature, of practical value to all who use books; monthly finding lists, by authors, titles, and subjects, preceded by a classified summary; lists of the most prominent English and French publications; bibliographical cues to timely topics; and numerous special lists, as the Educational Catalogue. This department is the central feature of the paper, and makes it an indispensable aid to the trade, to libraries, and to literary people. It is believed that no other journal, here or abroad, supplies as practical and satisfactory a record of the publications of its country.

Its literary department includes comprehensive intelligence as to books forthcoming and publishing movements, at home and abroad, gathered with the aid of representatives in other cities; editorial discussions on book and trade subjects, as copyright and postal questions, etc.; original contributions and representative extracts on like topics; besides the usual matter of a class journal.

The subscription of all interested in books is solicited, and sample copies will be sent on application. The addresses of persons interested in book matters are requested.

This journal, in view of the quality of its circulation, and its constant use for daily reference, furnishes, it is believed, the best medium for reaching the book, stationery, and like trades. Advertisements are received at $18 per page; 20 cents per line; terms for repeated insertions on application; Books Wanted, or for Exchange, or Rare and Second-hand Books for Sale, 10 cents per line; Situations Wanted, free insertion of five lines. F. LEYPOLDT,

THE LIBRARY JOURNAL.

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA.

ESTABLISHED and sustained by the co-operative efforts of the leading librarians on both sides of the Atlantic, this international Journal aims to elevate the profession to the highest standard, and at the same time to effect a saving by enabling library work to be done in the best way, at the lowest cost.

The Journal especially meets the needs of the smaller libraries, offering them the costly experience and practical advice of the largest. It aims to be practically useful, and the curious or learned is put aside to give place to matter which shall make the reading in libraries better, readers more numerous, work more effective, or expenses less. Not a word is admitted in its reading or advertising pages that does not directly interest the librarian as a librarian. In refraining from doing imperfectly what is done so well by the several journals specially devoted to ancient lore and literature, the Library Journal is enabled to do the more justice to modern bibliography and current literature, as represented in its departments of "Bibliography" (proper), "Library Economy and History," "Anonyms and Pseudonyms," and the "Library Purchase List."

"The Journal meets my highest expectations as an organ for libraries and librarians."—R. A. Guild, Brown University.

"I find it my greatest help in my work, and cannot think how I did without it as long as I did. . . . Every article, note, or item is of interest to every librarian."—Jno. W. M. Lee, Mercantile Library, Baltimore.

"I have regarded the publication of the Library Journal as heralding a new era in library work—an era in which energy shall be economized by co-operation. No library can afford to do without it."—John Fiske, Harvard College Library.

"I read it through and through, advertisements and all. I assure you I prize it as among the best of 'helps' published. The discussions coming from practical, working, watchful librarians, must result in great good to all members of the craft."—Wm. Ives, Y. M. A., Buffalo.

"It is very desirable that a library manual should be prepared and published. None exists. There are materials, however, for a good one in the contents of the five volumes of the Library Journal already published and of the Special Report issued at Washington in 1876 by the Bureau of Education."—S. S. Green, Worcester Library, Worcester, Mass.

"It is of incalculable importance to every librarian to find, as he does, in this Journal the experience of his seniors and the acuteness of his inferiors in age. It must not be allowed to fail, even if every library now taking it should have to pay ten times the present subscription price."—Frederic Vinton, College of New Jersey Library.

"I consider the Journal one of the most valuable aids to librarians ever undertaken. I do not see how a librarian can venture to undertake his responsibilities without it. Every library, whether public or private, that spends $200 annually on its administration, cannot pay out $5 with more advantage to itself than by taking the Journal."—John Eaton, Commissioner of Education.

"With all our experience of running eight libraries in one, we still find that there are experiences of others recorded in the Journal which are helpful. I can't see how it can be other than a great help to lesser institutions which need to know more what other libraries do than we do, where we have such a large variety within our own circle."—Justin Winsor.

"I look on the Library Journal as a labor-saving machine. A single idea, like that of a card catalogue (which is an American invention), may be worth hundreds and thousands of dollars to a library. Hence it is false economy for any library, however small, to attempt to dispense with the only periodical specially intended for its benefit."—Lloyd P. Smith, Philadelphia and Logonian Libraries.

"I regard the Library Journal as one of the most important and indispensable aids to all who are connected with the management of libraries in any way. True economy of methods, time, and money may be here learned by the young librarian. The practical suggestions and information embodied in a single number are frequently worth ten times the year's subscription."—A. R. Spofford, Librarian of Congress.

"The larger libraries, of course, all subscribe for the Library Journal. I cannot see how any small library can do without it. I am receiving a dozen letters a week from small libraries asking me questions which have been answered fully in the Library Journal. My custom is to answer briefly, and refer the inquirers to the Journal, advising them to subscribe for it forthwith."—W. F. Poole, Chicago Public Library.

"Judging from the great value of the numbers of the Journal which have already appeared, I should think that most librarians would regard it as indispensable for effective work in their department. If library committees and trustees should make themselves familiar with the Journal, they would better appreciate the character of the details of a librarian's work, and thus be able to add to their own efficiency as well as to his."—H. A. Homes, New York State Librarian.

"The Library Journal was welcomed by librarians as supplying a long-felt and pressing need. They are more than satisfied with what it has already accomplished, and believe that its value to libraries cannot be overestimated, as it gives information which can be found nowhere else so completely, and without which no library can be economically or properly managed."—James L. Whitney, Boston Public Library.

"The Library Journal is exactly the professional manual which will save money to the supporters of libraries, and labor and error to the librarian and his staff; and which will therefore directly increase the amount and usefulness of reading to be afforded to the public. It ought to pertain to every library just as books ought, or the salary of the staff."—Frederic Beecher Perkins.

"It seems to me that no library can afford to do without a journal which contains so much that is suggestive and valuable. Apart from the literary information imparted, the practical hints in the direction of economy to be found in its columns should be worth more, particularly to the numerous smaller libraries of the country, than the subscription price. A single suggestion may save three times five dollars, as happened recently within my own experience. Self-interest, if no other motive, should induce every young library to subscribe to a journal so worthy of support."—S. B. Noyes, Brooklyn Mercantile Library.

"In my judgment, the Journal is so important a practical aid in library work that it would pay the larger libraries of the country to bear jointly the expense of its publication. Its value to smaller libraries is simply incalculable. Limited funds, want of trained assistance, inaccessibility of the best information, either in bibliography or in practical administration, lack of direct counsel from experienced co-laborers—these are all reasons why the smaller libraries should come forward, without exception, to the support of a journal which places the latest results of the combined wisdom of the best libraries at their command."—Thomas Vickers, Cincinnati Public Library.

THE AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE

For 1882 [Thirteenth Year].

COMPILED BY G. D. T. ROUSE.

The Educational Catalogue has been found so valuable to the Trade, not only as a finding list, but for circulation among educational customers, for the purpose of soliciting orders and saving at the same time much troublesome correspondence, that its permanent continuance is recognized as a necessity.

The catalogue this year follows the alphabetical system pronounced by the experience of the trade the most satisfactory for practical use. It includes a price-list arranged alphabetically by author's or editor's name, and a detailed subject-index, referring from each specific subject to authors of books on that subject, so that the advantages of both a finding list for the trade and a class catalogue for the use of schools are combined.

No other list in the market gives this practical combination. And no other catalogue has ever been made approximately so complete as this. Last year's edition contained twice as many books as, or nearly 2500 more books, than either of the other lists that were offered to the trade.

The list has been entirely reset, to include the new books in their proper alphabetical order, and also to embody all the corrections of prices, omissions, or other errors in last year's catalogue.

Publishers' prices are in all cases given—retail, if retail (in first column); "net," if "net" (in second column); where a "mailing" percentage is specified by the publisher, the "mailing price" is given in the retail column marked with an asterisk. A carefully drawn explanation in the heading, to private buyers, adapts the catalogue to the use of the retail trade.

It should be understood that, of the regular retail-price publishers, only the retail price is given, and the net prices only of those publishers who make it a practice to mail net-price lists to schools—in fact, make their net prices their regular school-supply prices. This point is emphasized in order to meet the objections raised to the quotation of net prices.

It should be well considered that any attempt at withholding, from the educational public, what the publisher, through his agents, advertisements, lists, and circulars, takes special pains to make known, must be an unwise policy. It is not objectionable, but quite proper and legitimate, to charge the retail or mailing price for single copies of any book; but the educational catalogue is not generally given away to single-book customers. It is intended only for those who purchase or schools in quantities. Now any one putting himself on record by quoting fictitious prices, or prices other than those quoted by the publisher (which prices, it is now understood, are generally still subject to a trade discount), necessarily must drive his school trade into the hands of those who solicit their orders from a catalogue, the prices of which tally with that of the publishers.

The following paragraph from last year's Educational Catalogue further elucidates the reasons for our strict adherence to publishers' prices: "Plainly, if it wished to sustain its official character, it was bound to respect the desire of those who have a right to stand by their prices, and who, should their established prices be disregarded, could by their public protest soon discredit the Educational Catalogue as well as those who handled it for circulation. At a time when the public mind, from causes so often discussed and lamented in these columns, is fast losing faith in honest prices, so far as books are concerned, it is of utmost importance that there be one official list which can be consulted with confidence by the public, as well as by the trade."

In making up special orders for the Educational Catalogue, booksellers should bear in mind that it possesses not only temporary value, but will serve its purpose during the whole year. No imprint edition of less than 100 copies can be supplied. Orders for editions should be sent to us at once.

CASH TERMS.

With sole imprint of ordering firm, and stitched, per 100 copies, $5; per 1000, $40.

. Copy for imprint and shipping directions should accompany the order.

THE Publishers' Trade-List Annual For 1882 (Tenth Year)

WILL BE A LARGE OCTAVO OF ABOUT 2000 PAGES, CONTAINING, AS USUAL :

The Publishers' Trade-Lists for 1882. These are the latest Catalogues of American Publishers, arranged alphabetically by the names of the publishers.

The Educational Catalogue for 1882 (thirteenth year). This Catalogue, which is used by the entire trade and educational interest as the most complete and reliable reference-list of School-Books, is prepared on the same plan as last year, viz. : (1) arrangement on the "dictionary plan," combining a Finding-List for the trade and a Subject Catalogue for the use of schools ; (2) Trade-list or wholesale price, and mailing or retail price, in parallel columns.

THE ADDITIONAL REFERENCE FEATURES, THIS YEAR, WILL BE

Annotated List of the Books of the Year. A complete reprint of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY full title Records (inclusive of all the descriptive notes) from July 2, 1881, to June 30, 1882.

Complete Index to the Books of the Year. In order to facilitate reference to the above list, it will be accompanied by a full index by which every book on record can be found, whether it is looked for under author, title, or subject. Numerous cross-references will also be added to facilitate the finding of books on similar subjects.

The substitution of the above lists, in place of the former short title reference lists, cannot but prove profitable both to publishers and booksellers. For every reference will place the bookseller or consulting bookbuyer in immediate possession not only of the full title, inclusive of the full name of the publisher, place of publication, size, number of pages, binding, etc., but in most cases also of the data relating to the character or contents of the book. In fact, all this information being within easy reach, and actually being forced upon any one who is consulting the list, this plan will materially add to the knowledge of books, particularly among those who directly deal with the public. On the other hand, the bookbuyer receiving much more satisfactory information than could be given from the former short title reference lists, is surer to make his purchase than when, as is so often the case, his mind is left in doubt, for want of data. The original record of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY being thus made permanently accessible, an annual catalogue is presented to the trade, the practical value of which can scarcely be over-estimated.

The above Lists, all requiring unusual labor and expense, present in their combination so perfect a working tool as has never been presented to the trade of any other country. It may be justly claimed that these special trade helps alone will make the ANNUAL indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase and sale of books.

TERMS.

The price will be One Dollar per copy net, bound in cloth, or can be sent postpaid for One Dollar and a half net. The price of the volume will be raised after close of subscription.

No single subscriptions (unless by special agreement) can be taken into account that have not been paid up, as the small amounts will neither bear the trouble nor the expense or risk of numerous accounts, bills, statements, and subsequent collections.

Delayed or unpaid subscriptions are not entitled to the subscription price ($1).

Remittances should be made by money order on New York, or registered letter, as we cannot be responsible for any losses. Receipt for remittance will be sent by return mail.

Unless special shipping directions are received, copies ready for delivery will be dispatched by express unpaid.

*A good book to recommend to Ladies going to the Country.—Combines instruction and pastime.A Reading Diary of Modern Fiction.

Containing a representative list of the novels of the nineteenth century, preceded by suggestive remarks on novels and novel-reading.

The object of this "Reading Diary" is to present a survey of all that is considered worth reading in the domain of modern fiction, and thus to make easy a daily record of what has been read, and what to read next, with a view to comparing notes and a mutual exchange of recommendations among congenial friends. It also is to serve as a check-list or guide to the choice of books at the book-store. For this purpose it presents a select list of over one thousand of the best works of modern fiction, with blank facing pages for additions or memoranda.

It is issued in 32mo (160 pages), diary style, suitable for the pocket, and is as neat and attractive in appearance as it is useful in contents and novel in plan. Retail price, paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents; russias, gilt edges, $1. Orders filled by the jobbers.
